

JUNE

WE SEE YOU

Unlike most clubs at Jenks, Key Club is active in the summer. All of our projects excluding school-based projects still exist during the summer. We know that summer break is supposed to be a break from school and all students are trying to avoid any activity that has “Jenks” in the title right now. But the thing is, Key Club is entirely based on service to the community, and we know that many of our members are doing service independently of the club that would count for points if they only turned those points in. For example, mission trips count as faith-based hours, our only stipulation is that the counted hours have to be actual work. We see all of our members’ mission trip pictures on Facebook and we wonder why our members don’t turn them in. Hopefully this clears up some misconceptions about Key Club in the summer.

JENSKSKEYCLUB.ORG

Our website has been reformatted! Moin Nadeem, our webmaster took it upon himself to redesign and configure the website and it is a shoe-in for best Key Club website at DCON next April. The website is updated frequently with information and dates concerning Key Club; it is a great tool to stay on top of all things Key Club! So type in Jenkskeyclub.org and take a gander at the newly designed website.

Key Club is to high school as bacon is to a burger. Some people aren't fans, but for those who are, bacon means everything.

MOORE

On June 14th, Jenks Key Club trekked to Moore to help with the tornado cleanup. We brought 12 students and three adults to give aid. The idea for going was to help clean debris and donate supplies, but coincidentally, the nation has been so liberal with their donations to Moore that our Key Clubbers helped sort and send away supplies. These supplies were then distributed to other areas that were in need. So now we know, if an area is destroyed by a natural disaster, while supplies are necessary, the real necessity is manpower. They need people with work boots, gloves and long pants for the real cleanup and push all the less intrusive tasks on the Nike shorts clad high school students. On a different note, not all of our volunteers made it to Moore, a good chunk of them was victim to car troubles and had to turn back. I, of course was part of this group, so this account of the trip was made via hearsay.
