SEPTEMBER PROJECTS

HOMETOWN HUDDLE

September 20th was the Hometown Huddle, it had a great turnout and lots of key clubbers helped out. Key Club had a bracelet-making booth; hundreds of bracelets were made for the sick kids in the children's hospital. Members also helped man the games and concessions at the event. The kids seemed to really appreciate us and it was a fun way to earn hours. It was a great way to start off the year.

BICYCLE RODEO

To teach bicycle safety, our Kiwanians and Key Clubbers set up a course where the kids had to slow down over speed bumps, stop at stop signs and maneuver through a simple course. The Rodeo had kids from the ages of 4 to about 12. The Bicycle Rodeo was more than just a track, the Tulsa Bikers Club also came out and checked all of the kids' tires and brakes, and then they handed out pamphlets to the parents so they could do the same at home. After each kid finished biking the course, each child could come to the sign in table and receive a medal with a bag of coupons and discounts that local stores had donated to the cause. We as a club had 13 members attend to help out our Kiwanians. Our members seemed to have as much fun as the kids.

PROJECT SPOTLIGHT

DCON 2014 is far away but we want to win everything so turn in your points!

JENKS GREEN

Jenks Green kicked off the school year with its first meeting on September 10th. With nearly twenty members in attendance, it is doing remarkably well for a new project working to gain publicity. At this meeting, members

Painted birdhouses to be placed on campus or in the Jenks community. This gives Jenks Green the opportunity to coordinate with the ornithology class at the high school and thus a chance to increase its reach to the students of Jenks. These birdhouses will be accompanied later in the year by homemade birdfeeders along with other seasonal things such as pumpkins and flower pots in order to highlight the beauty of the Jenks High School campus. Jenks Green's second meeting consisted of chalking the campus with encouraging messages the day before the football game between Jenks and its biggest rival, Union. This type of activity will be repeated later in the year to go along with the Governor's anti-bullying theme. Jenks

Green will be adding small touches to our campus that will hopefully make a big difference. Jenks Green also plans to beautify the school from within. Teachers will appreciate having Key Club members clean their classrooms after school, and also there are some areas of the school that seem to go unnoticed most of the time but will sparkle with a bit of dusting and polishing. Members will also be picking up trash and helping teachers organize books and the like.

Nicknamed "Dust Bowls," these cleaning projects will be infused with fun in the form of music, food, and great company and thus Jenks Green hopes to create a link between having a good time and helping keep the community clean. - Kelsie Stewart
